Just Me

There comes a time
When I have to say
I'm looking forward
To a brighter day
Because now I know I'm on my own
In this world to stand alone . . .
Just me.

I stop to think
There has to be Something more
Than what they see
I need someone to understand
Why I am the way I am . . .
Just me.

I want
I am
And choose to be Something others cannot be . . .
Me.

by Camille Bey

Who Am I

I am a fragrant flower out of the distant past.
Delicate, subtle and strong.

I am full of grace and beauty and love
My spirit soars like a dove
My values teach me to do little wrong.

I'm blessed with the ability to achieve all I have in mind to do.
And become great, then greater
When I have my success with you

Wisdom is to know the courage you need
Justice is good, temperance is balance
All these make my life so much sweeter.

That's the meaning of my name
Beauty and grace
Who am I?
I am Jamala S. Orange.

Mr. Music

To play what I feel,
I need moderation.
Everything is not real,
Just total dedication.

It has to be understood,
For me as well as others.
Interpretations, not the same,
To understand feelings of another.

Hearing what I hear,
Sounds are not sounds.
Loving what I love,
Music is not music.

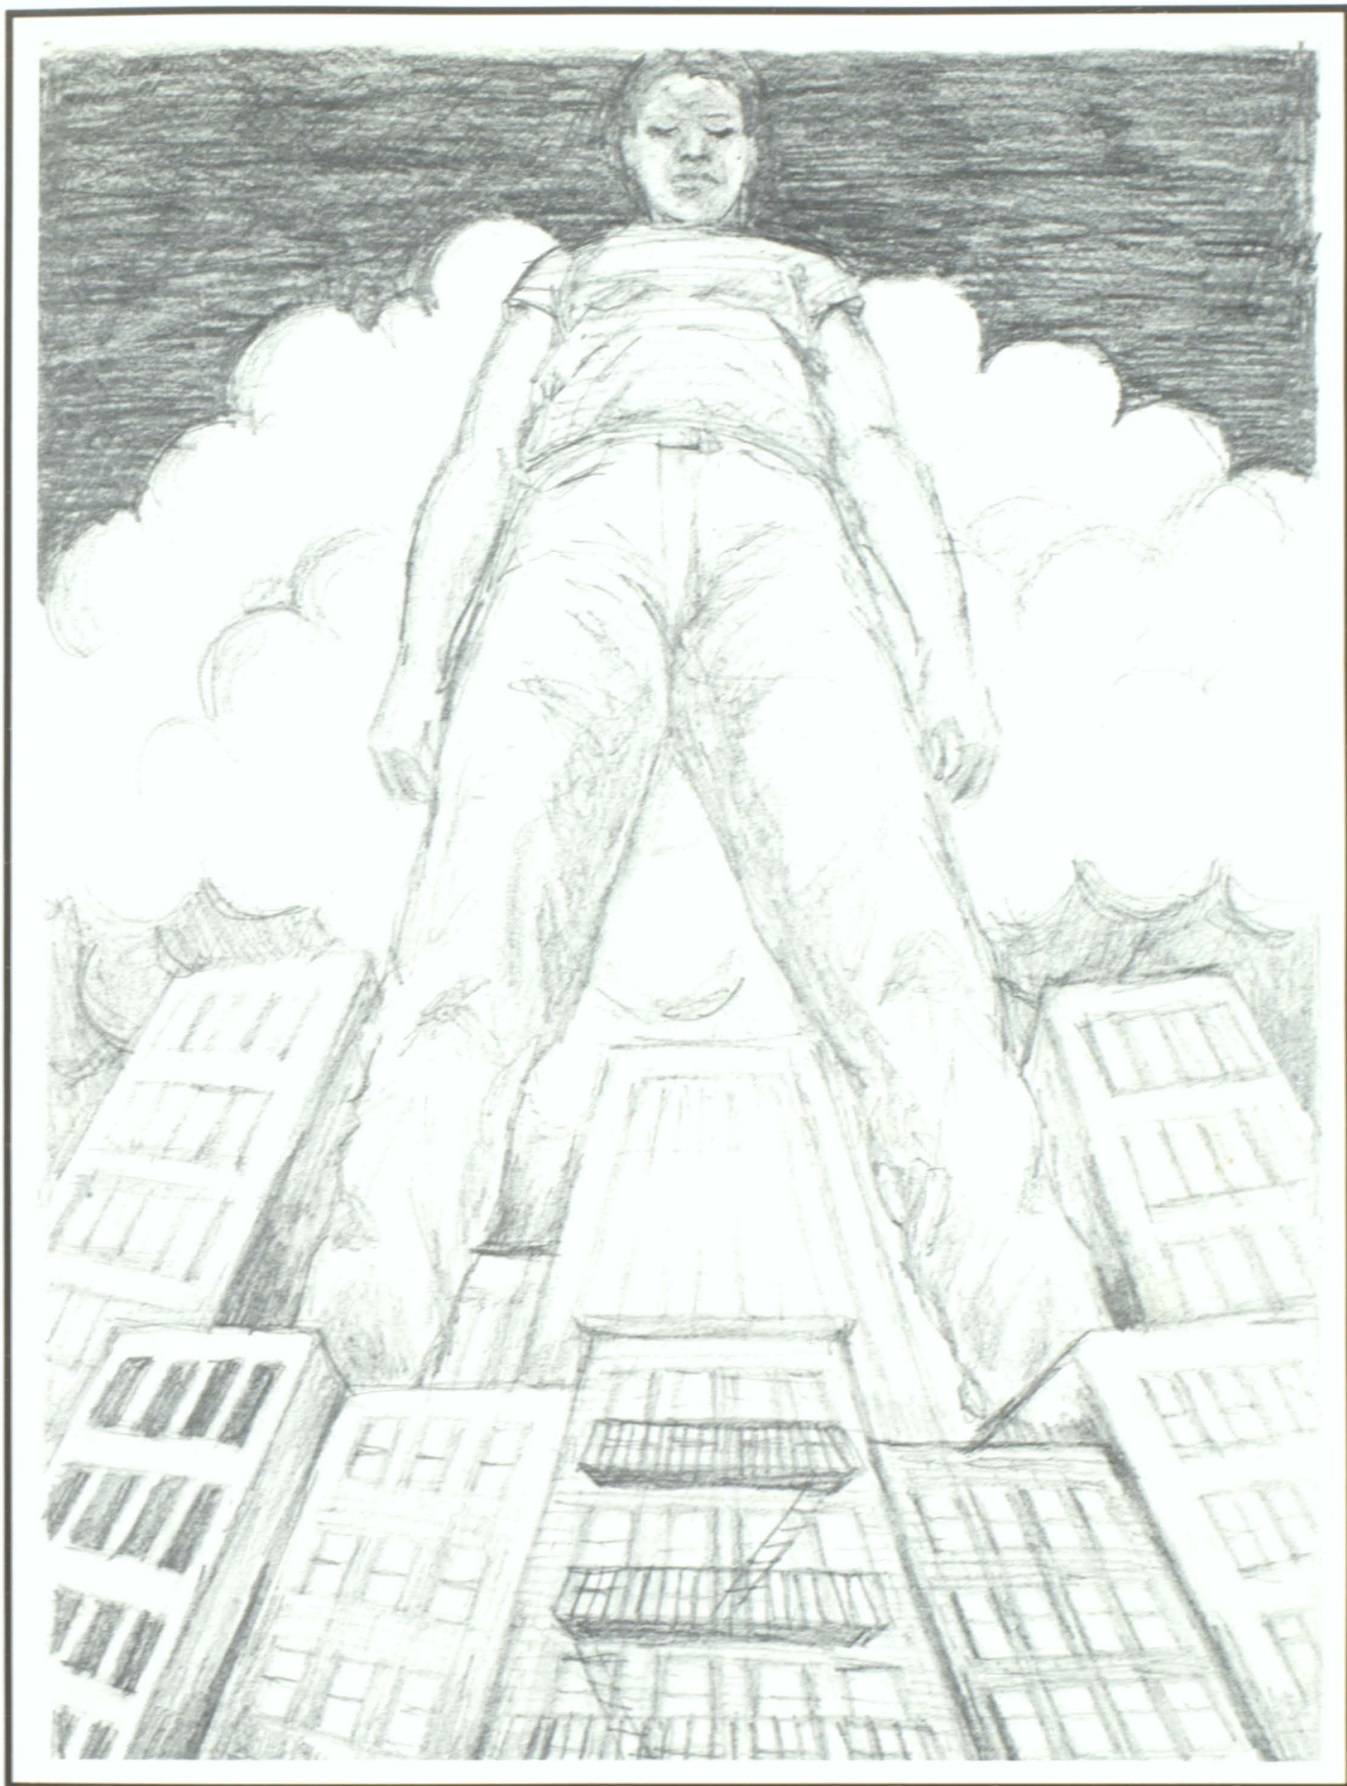

Something unknown,
Answers to discover.
My love of music,
This I must uncover.

by Kyle Younger

The Life I've Started

An environment unknown to me
Not yet matured
Never could understand why
I remain on a level that's stationary
No growth, no thoughts
Full of doubts
Nevertheless I'll sprout
I'll sprout
Into a person of caring
Into a person of maturity
I am yet a child who needs that push
A force to help me grow
Into that person who glows
Glows with brilliance
With happiness
With education
There is no definition of what is needed
Education was the plant seeded
Life is completed
The thought plain and pure
The life I've started
And endured.

Senior music classes strive for perfection

I know not whether you are beautiful. I fear you may be. I fear your sparkling darkness.

Dahomey! Dahomey! to my rescue, Negroes, all of you! . . . Let the spectator behold you.

M' Zaité 2,1010! What about coffee? Extra Special Arabica 608-627, Robusta 327-327, Kuilu 313-317.

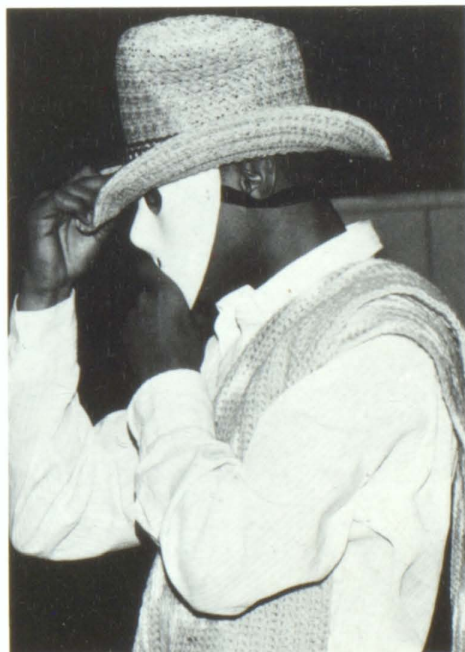

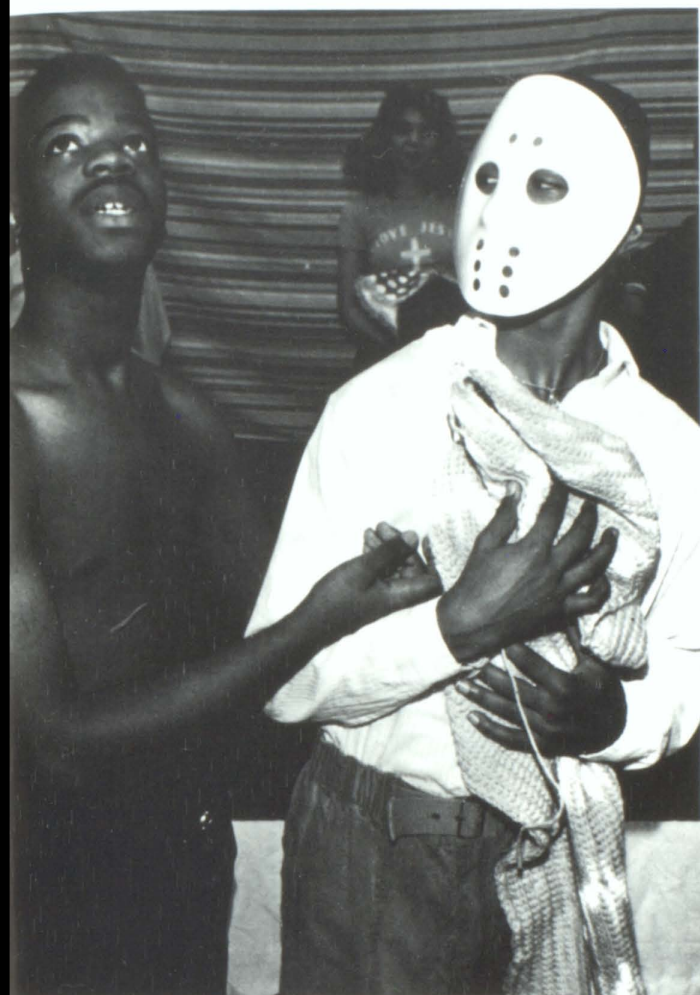

The cast of "The Blacks" by Jean Genet

he moon — for it was almost night — rose artfully over a landscape inhabited by insects.
 's a distant land, madam . . .

“The Blacks” is staged at Arts

Livid as a t.b. death rattle
 Livid as the belly of a cobra
 Livid as jealousy
 Hail the livid.

And now, ready for the mask . . . are you sure we couldn't do without it?

May I explain? I should indeed like the performance to re-establish in our souls a balance that our plight perpetuates.

Visual and Literary Image by Enrique Jones

When they look back at us
And they write down their history,
What will they say about our generation?
We're the ones who knew everything,
Still we did nothing,
Harvested everything, planted nothing.

We live pretty well in the wake of the goldrush,
Floating in comfort on waves of our apathy.
Quietly gnawing away at her body,
Until we mortgage the future, bury our children.

Storehouses full of the fruits we've given,
We send of the scrag-ends to suckle the starving,
But still we can't feed this strange hunger inside,
Greedy, restless and unsatisfied.

I was never much for the "big bang" theory,
Going out in a blaze of suicidal glory,

Not foolish and brave, these leaders of ours,
Just stupid and petty, unworthy of power.

Just a little leak here and a small error there,
Another square mile poisoned forever,
A series of sad and pathetic little fizzles,
Out go the lights, never to return.

The affair is over, the passion is dead,
She stares at us now with ice in her eyes,
But we turn away from these bitter reproaches,
And take up distractions to forget what we're doing.

I stand on these hills and watch her a night,
A thousand square miles, a million orange lights.
Wounded and scarred, she lies silent in pain,
Raped and betrayed in the cold acid rain,
I wish and I wish we could start over again,
Yes, I wish and I wish we could win back her love once again.

An Image

Life is like a mystery
 Every turn has a new story
 Every day has its own cliff hanger
 As you go through life you feel an emptiness
 An emptiness that can only be filled with knowledge
 Knowledge can only be given
 To those who thirst for it
 A dream hidden in the heart of a man
 A feeling that no one understands but the seeker.

Being a Senior

Being a senior is like being young and old
 In and out, mature in your immaturity
 Being a senior is like being caught up in a storm
 Where it rains, sleets, hails and snows all at once
 But the sun shines the brightest when it shines at all
 In your senior year.

The art of discipline is taught here,
 The arts of visual expression, music and drama
 Are disciplines within themselves.
 You must be trained to look beyond the obvious,
 To bring out creative ideas.
 These ideas are the result of the talent at Arts High School.

Unity

We, who were once so far apart
Have now come closer together

We, who once anticipated it to be over
Now want it forever

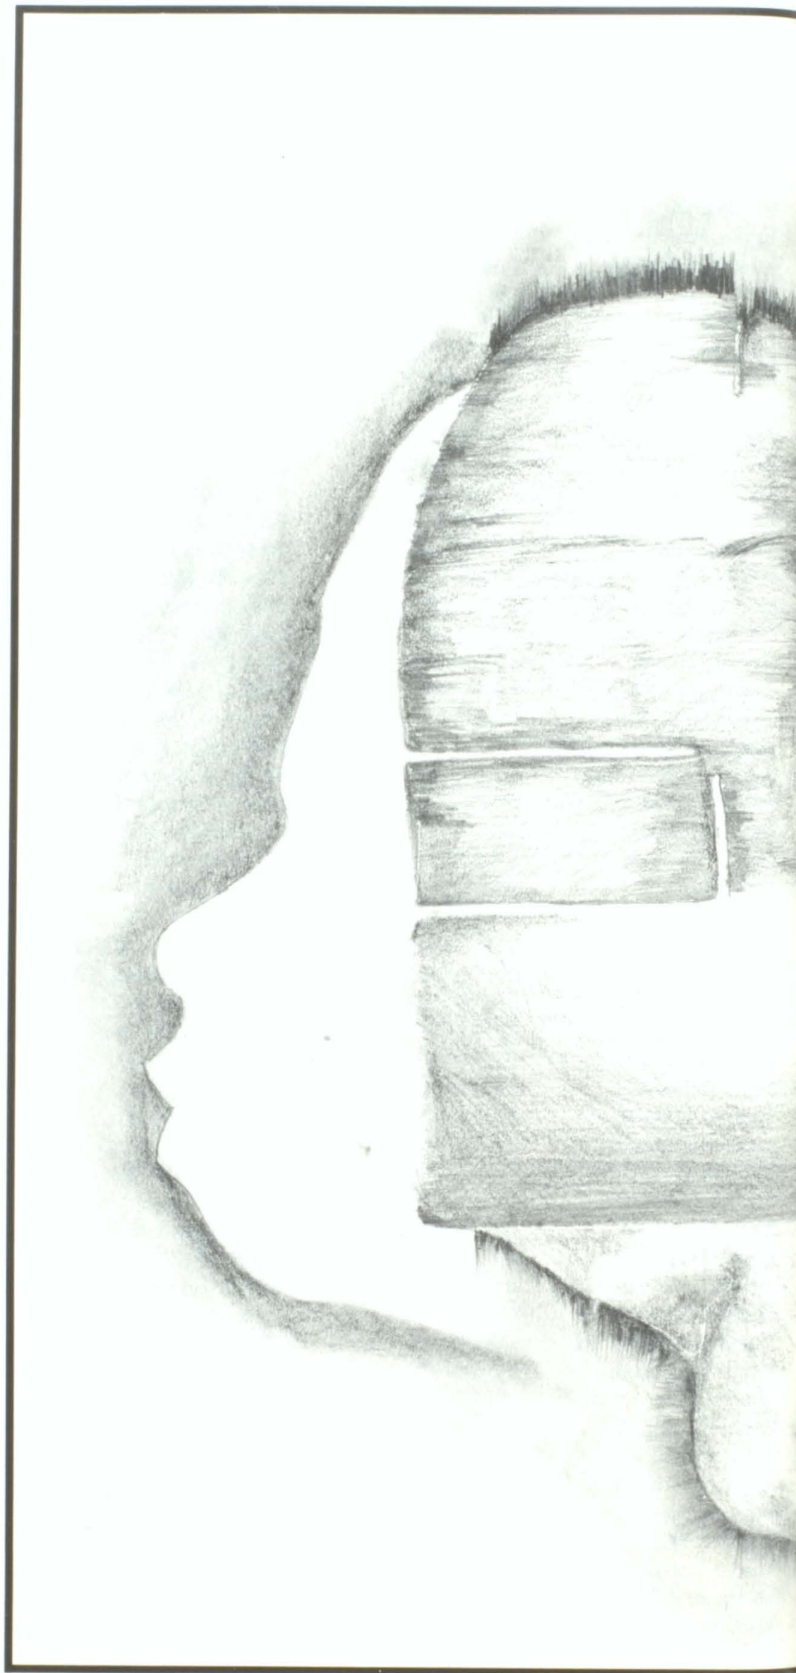

We, who once looked forward to the future
Are now reflecting upon the past

We, who once threw our time away
Now appreciate each day as if it were our last

We, who once suffered
Are now filled with hope and possibility

We, who were once out of touch with one another
Have now bonded together in unity.

Faculty

Mr. Hilton Otero
Principal

Throughout our high school years, Mr. Otero has been our guiding inspiration. He has always encouraged us to work up to our full potential and to have self respect. We thank him. He will never be forgotten.

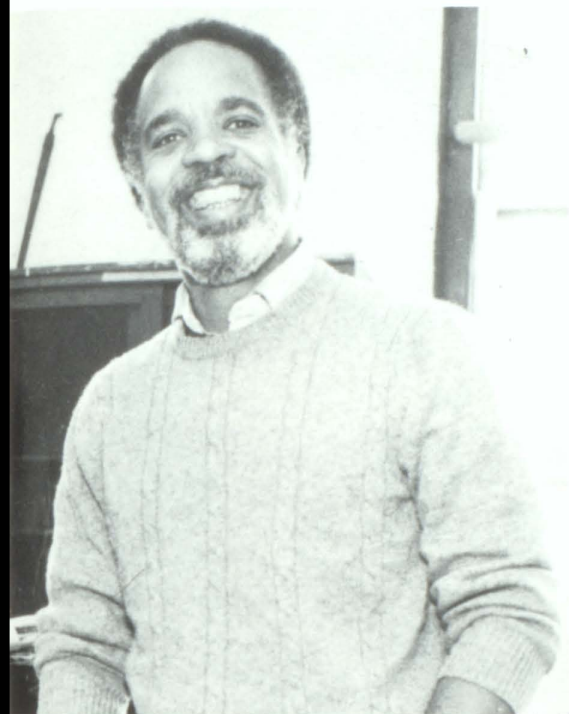

Mr. Alfredo Gentile
Vice Principal

Mr. Gentile has been a great help throughout our four years of high school. He has helped the class of 1988 survive high school. We thank him.

Mr. Jan Carden
Yearbook Advisor

The class of 1988 owes the success of our yearbook to Mr. Carden. He has been very patient and dedicated. We know that there have been times when he wanted to give up. We are glad that he did not. We thank him so very much.

Mrs. Virginia McAlinden
Senior Class Advisor

Mrs. McAlinden has been a dedicated and wonderful senior class advisor. Her encouragement, advice and knowledge will definitely be an invaluable asset to us in the future. Thanks for believing in us when no one else would.

Mrs. Judy Barrett
Head Guidance Counsellor

Mrs. Barrett would like to extend her congratulations and best wishes to the class of 1988. She wishes them to remember that since they are High School graduates, they have the talent and intelligence needed to make their marks in society. We would like to thank Mrs. Barrett for all of her help.

English

Mrs. Virginia McAlinden, Arts High School's English Chairperson perceives the class of 1988 as having been a group that was confronted with challenges pertaining to traditional student activities that had never been questioned before in an open forum. Rather than risk their academic future, they have decided to deal with the task at hand, which is to graduate. Many adults in a modern society could not or would not be able to handle this dilemma. The class of 1988 has learned that life may not be fair, but this group is willing to try to do its utmost to still make it a better world. Mrs. McAlinden describes the class of 1988 as committed, competent, and persevering.

A Note of Humility

When all of our hopes are sown on stony ground
And we have yielded to the thought of gain.
Long after our last songs have lost their sound,
We may come back, we may come back again.

When thorns have choked the last green thing we loved
And we have said all that there is to say.
When love that moved us once leaves us unmoved,
Then men like us may come to have a day.

For it will be with us, with the bee,
With the meager ant, the seagull, the loon.
We may come back triumphantly, mournfully for an hour or two,
But it will not be soon.

IMAGES AND PERCEPTIONS

An Image

The image I have of myself as a person is one of a child who is first learning to ride a bike. No matter how many times I fall or get hurt, I always rise up and strive to accomplish the goal I am trying to reach. I know this cannot be done alone, therefore I am willing to reach out for assistance, reassurance and support. Without these three, you will certainly fail, because there will be no one there for you.

The Girls Basketball Team faced with an upgraded schedule, nevertheless had its 4th winning season in a row, finishing with a record of 16 wins and 9 losses, as well as being ranked among the top ten teams in Essex County. Over the past 4 seasons the record stands at 65 wins and 28 losses.

Senior team members Lavon Powell and Chontey Copeland help lead this years team to the quarterfinals of both the County and State Tournaments. Next year's team hopes to continue this winning tradition.

Chontey Copeland

Every so often a special athlete comes along who a coach selfishly wishes would never graduate. Chontey Copeland exemplifies such an athlete. Her achievement of nine varsity letters speaks for itself. She was a four year starter on the basketball team, serving as captain senior year. Four more varsity letters in softball were earned as well as selection to the All-Newark Team in each of her four seasons. Chosen Captain during her junior and senior years, Chontey also found time to letter in Cross Country junior year.

But this wonderful young lady meant much more to her coaches and teammates during her stay at Arts. Chontey's high level of maturity, reliability, and the leadership qualities she exhibited set difficult standards for future Arts athletes to attain. Chontey is a great example as to why some coaches continue in an otherwise thankless profession. Her coaches and teammates at Arts wish Chontey only the good things in life. We will miss her.

A. Colatrella (Mr.C), Coach, Teacher, Friend

Down, but not out

Although Arts High's baseball team experienced many defeats last year, there were a few outstanding players who made the team victorious. They were Darren Burton, who was "the guts" of the infield and the offense; Darryl Wiley, the outstanding defensive outfielder who also tripled home the winning run against Shabazz; and freshman Edwin Perez, a fine prospect, who became the pitching "ace" of the team.
